European Society for emergency Nursing

EuSEN e-newsletter, number 1, 2019

Dear Colleagues,

With pride we can announce the first EuSEN congress here in this newsletter.

Since the foundation of EuSEN in 2019 we have dreamed about this within the board but now it has finally been realized.

The first congress will take place on May 23th and 24th 2019 in Brussels (B).

On the first day of the congress several workshops are planned. On day the 2nd day presentations will be given.

We have tried to put together an instructive and interesting programme. We also present a number of very inspiring keynote lectures.

In this newsletter you will find all the necessary information. Please subscribe via the website www.eusencongress.org . Hurry up: There is still availability!!!!

We have deliberately kept the registration price low to allow as many nurses as possible from all EuSEN member-organisations and individual members to be present

This congress should also be an event where nurses from different Emergency Departments can meet and feel connected to the EuSEN community.

I hope to meet you soon in May in the beautiful city of Brussels.

On behalf of the EuSEN Board

Door Lauwaert
President

Past activities

In 2018, EUSEN was again invited to compile the nursing track of the EUSEM congress in Glasgow. The EuSEN Scientific Advisory Council (SAC) had invited eminent speakers who gave very interesting presentations on the following topics: Trauma and Disaster, Geriatric Emergency nursing Care, Well-being of staff, Emergency Nursing research.

At the third Global Conference on Emergency Nursing & Trauma Care congress, EUSEN had the opportunity to present itself. At this conference the chairman Door Lauwaert and the vice-chairman Petra Valk-Zwinkl gave a presentation about the founding and mission of EuSEN. This congress was also the opportunity to meet fellow organisations from all over the world. A lot of useful contacts were made.

Key Course Features

Course participants will learn from world-renowned experts in emergency medicine. The course, facilitated by faculty from Harvard Medical School and Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, will use case studies, presentations, and interactive hands-on workshops to answer the following questions:

- How can we assure clinical quality in our ED?
- How can we provide state of the art emergency medicine care for our patients, particularly in the areas of sepsis, STEMI, and stroke emergencies?
- Why is having an effective quality assurance program essential for all practicing emergency physicians?
- What are the basic principles of effective ED quality metrics?
- What is an error and an adverse event and how do we appropriately implement the AHRQ severity scale in assessment of these?
- What is the role of the provider in error assessment?
- How can Morbidity & Mortality conferences contribute to a well-functioning QI system?
- How do we perform a standard case assessment and use this to improve clinical quality?
- How can lean and Six Sigma practices help ED physicians treat their patients more safely?
- How do we perform team training to maximize clinical care?
- How do we use a triggers system to improve quality by reducing time-to-interventions?
- How do we implement standardized clinical pathways and assess their impact on quality of care and reduce variability?
