EuSEN General Assembly (room GARTENSAAL)

The main purpose of the European Society for Emergency Nursing (EuSEN) is to promote the art and science of emergency nursing across Europe and provide a platform for knowledge and information sharing amongst its members in the interest of our patients (Website EuSEN). At this moment, 13 countries (15 organizations) participate in EuSEN, each having its' own clinical practice guidelines, emergency nursing education styles, and nursing research priorities. These differences put a challenge to the implementation of evidence-based practices throughout Europe. At the same time, the differences between countries create opportunities for multinational research projects. For example, investigating the effects of different interventions to the same clinical problem. There are also many similarities, which again creates opportunities to create research projects using multicenter designs with large patient numbers.

To promote and support research activities of EuSEN's members, the Executive Board of EuSEN will install a Research Advisory Committee (RAC). The aims of EuSEN RAC are, amongst others:

- To facilitate collaborative research projects. EuSEN RAC members will utilize networks within their region to encourage proposals for multinational nursing studies.
- To discuss multinational nursing research priorities, clinical practice guidelines, and external research opportunities.
- To review multinational nursing research proposals, assessing quality of the study design and feasibility of the study.

EuSEN RAC reports to the Executive Board of EuSEN. The EuSEN website will be used to communicate research-issues.

EuSEN is now seeking research experts in emergency nursing interested in volunteering on EuSEN RAC.

Applicants preferably have a doctorate (or an equivalent degree), and publishing and/or reviewing experience. However, enthusiasm for multinational nursing research is the most important quality that we seek. EuSEN RAC members will routinely conduct business by email (for example, when reviewing study proposals) and may where necessary hold formal meetings via Skype. If you are interested in participating in EuSEN RAC, please submit the following information to Dr. M.Christien van der Linden

If you have a colleague who may enjoy serving on EuSEN RAC, please feel free to forward this call to him or her.

For any questions please contact: Dr. M.Christien van der Linden,
